EDUCATION

University of Georgia expected 2027
Ph.D. Management Information Systems

Brigham Young University 2023
Master of Information Systems Management
- Ph.D. preparation track

Bachelor of Science, Information Systems

RESEARCH OVERVIEW

Interests: human-AI augmentation, user cognition and behavior, humanistic technology use

Methodological expertise: experiments, surveys, theory development

Doctoral dissertation: "Mechanisms of Mind and Machine: Heterogeneous Effects of AI Augmentation on Human Judgment"
- Committee: Aaron Schecter (Chair), Elena Karahanna, Jerry Kane, Akshat Lakhiwal

4. Richardson, B., Schecter, A., Karahanna, E. "A Wrinkle in Timing: The Puzzling Effects of Algorithmic Advice and Explanations on Anchoring Bias"
    - under first-round review at MIS Quarterly

Working Papers:

1. When Delegation Becomes Violation: Determinants of Moral Judgment in GAI Use
    - team: Schuetzler, Richardson, Wells
    - status: Study 1 completed; collecting data for Study 2
2. Algorithmic Antidotes: Heuristic-Aligned Explanations for Debiasing Judgment
    - team: Richardson, Karahanna, Schecter
    - status: Studies 1-3 accepted to ICIS 2026; designing Studies 4-6
3. Moral Architecture: How IS Design Cultivates and Constrains Virtuous Use
    - team: Richardson, Kane
    - status: preparing for submission to MIS Quarterly
4. Generative Imprinting: How First Sustained Encounters with AI Shape Durable Working Models of Algorithmic Collaboration
    - team: Schecter, Richardson
    - status: early-stage drafting

TEACHING

Interests: Intro to IS, AI Ethics, Analytics & Data Science, SQL & Data Management

UGA MIST 4610 – Data Management & Analytics, Fall 2025
- Instructor rating: 4.8/5.0 (historical average unavailable)
- 21 undergraduate students
- Database course covering database design and administration, querying (SQL), and data analytics.

BYU IS 505 – Programming for Data Science, Winter 2023
- Instructor rating: 4.9/5.0 (4.6 course historical average)

- 60 MBA, MPA, & MAcc students
- Python programming course covering pandas, data visualization, bivariate and multivariate statistics, text analytics, and data-driven decision making.

BYU IS 201 – Introduction to Management Information Systems, Winter 2022

- Instructor rating: 4.6/5.0 (4.5 course historical average)
- 267 undergraduate students
- Introductory course covering various technical topics including SQL, database design and management, web development, VBA, Tableau, and analytics.

Courses as teaching assistant:

- UGA MIST6360 – Intro to Business Analytics (Fall 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026)
- UGA BUSN3030 – Python Programming for Business Analytics (Summer 2025)

Select anonymous student comments:

- "He is a very creative instructor. The way he taught allowed and encouraged us to expand the concepts we learned in our own ways. In coding, there really isn't a "right way" to do something. Therefore, he would simply show us the tools and inspire us to explore."
- "Richardson is an extremely enjoyable, passionate, and knowledgeable instructor. I would easily recommend him as an instructor to anyone and loved being in his class. Despite being a newer instructor, he is absolutely amazing as a teacher and person."
- "Professor Richardson is definitely one of my favorite professors. He is so caring and considerate of his students and it's clear that he has our best interests in mind and really cares. There was one time when I was having issues with my online textbook and emailed him for help, and he responded almost immediately and jumped through several hoops to help me get it working again. I would absolutely recommend him to anyone else taking this class!"
- "This was an amazing class!!! I learned more in this class than in maybe any other, especially applicable skills. With the skills I learned here I was able to get a super awesome IS internship over the summer. I loved this class and Professor Richardson couldn't have done a better job teaching it! Great class!"
- "You could tell he genuinely cared about his students and the content he was teaching. He taught difficult, complex topics in a clear easy to understand way and really helped to make sure students had the tools to succeed."
- "Richardson was an amazing professor who has inspired me to change my major to this field."

AWARDS & HONORS

Paper Awards

- Best Overall ICIS 2025 Paper in Honor of TP Liang (ICIS 2025) – Richardson, B. Towards a Positivist Theory of Virtuous IS Use

- Claudio Ciborra Award, Most Innovative Paper (ECIS 2024) – Richardson, B., Fife, P., Steed, J., Crane, C., Gaskin, J. The New Marshmallow: The Effects of Screen Use on Children's Ability to Delay Gratification
- Distinguished Paper Award (ABIS 2023) – Richardson, B. Assessing Sentiment of the Top 10 Tech Trends that Will Shape the Next Decade: A Sentiment Analysis of Social Media Posts

WORK EXPERIENCE

- Graduate Assistant (Aug 2023 – present)
  - University of Georgia – Management Information Systems Department
- Adjunct Instructor (Jan 2022 – April 2023)
  - Brigham Young University – Information Systems Department
- Research Assistant (Aug 2021 – April 2023)
  - Brigham Young University – Information Systems Department
- Reporting and Analytics Intern (May 2021 – Aug 2021)
  - doTERRA International
- Data Analyst – Team Lead (Aug 2020 – Dec 2022)
  - BYU Career Services & Experiential Learning
- Business Manager Assistant (Jan 2019 – Jul 2020)
  - Brigham Young University – Psychology Department

TECHNICAL & OTHER SKILLS

- Programming languages: Python, R, Stata, JavaScript, VBA
- IT skills: database management & SQL, web development
- Statistical tools: SPSS, MPlus, Amos, SmartPLS
- Languages: Russian (conversational)
